

ATTACKED TRUST ALSO PRESIDENT

CONGRESS THE SCENE OF BITTER ARRAIGNMENT OF SUGAR INTERESTS.

RAINEY'S ROASTING SPEECH

Attorney General Wickersham, Henry P. Taft and Others Named in Bitter Address This Afternoon.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—In delivering a scathing denunciation of the American Sugar Refining Company, in the House of Representatives today, Representative Rainey of Illinois, did not hesitate to make bold suggestions concerning "that most corrupt and rotund trust ever created by the protective tariff system," and President Taft, Attorney General Wickersham, and Henry W. Taft, brother of the President.

Mr. Rainey referred to President Taft's message sent to Congress about a year ago in which the President advised against an investigation of the sugar trust by Congress for the reason that "it might," by giving immunity and otherwise, prove an embarassment in securing conviction of the guilty parties."

Revolving the history of the sugar trust, and especially recent fraudulent acts in underweighing raw sugar for the purpose of defrauding the government of millions of revenue, Mr.
Rainey said:

"The situation in brief is as follows: Prominent stockholders and directors of the Sugar Trust are in grave danger, or at least they were not long ago; the doors of our penitentiaries were opening for many of them. They have, however, succeeded through their control of the republican party, in bringing about this most delightful arrangement—

"The Attorney General of the United States was, until his appointment as sugar trust attorney, familiar with the methods of the sugar trust, exhibiting even now a remarkable sympathy for its officials in their difficult-ties."

"The general counsel for the sugar trust is an ex-attendant attorney general of the United States, loyal to the republican party, familiar with the methods and with the secrets of the Attorney General's Office."

"The brother of the President of the United States is one of the attorneys for the sugar trust."

"J. C. Parsons, the father of the ex-president of the New York County Republican Committee, is under indictment on account of his offense against the law in Philadelphia."

"And the President of the United States has advised against a Congressional investigation of the sugar trust, for the reason that it might prove embarrassing."

"The last of the frauds committed by the sugar trust occurred on the 20th day of November, 1907. The statute of limitations is running every day and will soon become a complete bar against prosecution that may be brought. The republican party is charged with the administration of affairs in this time. Two hundred and nineteen republican members sit on the other side of this chamber, and since the message of the President of the United States was read in this House, not one of them has lifted his voice against the sugar trust or in favor of an investigation by Congress."

In a carefully prepared speech Mr.
Rainey proceeded to review many incidents in the career of the sugar trust which he declared reached on through political parties and corrupt men "as no one else could do."

"Fourteen years, through the aid of most absolute management," declared Mr. Rainey, "the sugar trust has been able to wreck every financial institution, through their tariff schedule schedules, to suit its purposes. It has framed laws to protect itself from the people, and by bribing republican officials, it has been able to steal directly from the treasury of the United States untold millions of dollars."

Again referring to the President's message to Congress advising against an investigation of the sugar trust, Mr. Rainey insisted that such an investigation would not have granted immunity to witnesses called before a committee of Congress as suggested by the President. He cited the language of the constitution and of statutes to sustain that contention.

"And yet," he said, "that message of the President fell like a wet blanket on the Congress. As a result of four or five resolutions, including one of my own, providing for a Congressional investigation of the methods of the sugar trust when the alert idea that knows no waking in the Committee on Rules, of the House, and this committee will continue to be in the future as it has been in the past, the graveyard of those national monsters which, if reported out, would prove detrimental to the progress of the republican party."

Citing the "growing" deficit in the Treasury, the impossibility of providing city mail delivery in 25 or 30 cities of the country, and picturing the hopeless efforts of old soldiers to obtain modest increases of their pensions, Mr. Rainey made a further denunciation of the sugar trust as a prominent cause of the government's embarrassment because it has "stolen millions from the Treasury."

"And these thieves," he said, "spend this season of the year cruising in the Mediterranean, or at fashionable Florida hotels, watching automobile break records along the beach, still representing themselves to be honest men. The country is in debt and the men who have contributed millions to the republican campaign fund are permitted to now reimburse themselves by stealing from the Treasury of the United States."

He was aware, he said, that he

STRANGE GAVE TALK ON COUNTY OPTION

Candidate for Republican Nomination for Governor in Joint Debate.

Monitowoc, Wis., April 14.—The debate at Two Rivers last night between Lieutenant Governor John Strange and Attorney George Jones of Wausau appearing for Neil Brown who was unable to be present, was sensational through the exchange of personalities between the debaters.
Mr. Strange, in an interview yesterday, declared that he did not believe that county option would be an important issue in the coming state campaign. Mr. Strange charged that the special legislative body appointed to investigate water power rights of the state was prejudiced and had been chosen with a report favorable to the water power interests, a foregone conclusion.

The imputation was denied by Mr.
Jones. Judge Emil Baumbach of this city, spoke in defense of the state legislative body, a personal friend of Mr.
Strange, declared he had in his possession proof that New York interests had secured option on a majority of all the water power sites in Wisconsin. Mr. Strange declared that every man, woman and child in the state of Wisconsin had a right which was worth $40 in the water powers of the state. He also gave a scathing arraignment of the money interests and declared that the desire for money was the most insidious thing which threatened the American people today.

PHILANTHROPIST IS NINETY YEARS OLD

Dr. Daniel Pearsons Is Still Strong and Vigorous—Has Given Five-Sevenths of Fortune to Colleges.

Chicago, April 14.—Still strong and vigorous physically and mentally in spite of his age, Dr. Daniel M. Pear-sons, the noted philanthropist, celebrated his ninetieth birthday today at his charming home at 1144 Lake view. He has been invited to spend his day at the home of his wife, one of the small colleges of the West that have received substantial gifts from his munificence, but he preferred to spend his day at home, reading the numerous letters and telegrams of congratulation from private individuals and various colleges and other institutions he has helped in the past.

Dr. Daniel M. Pearsons occupies a rather singular position among the philanthropic millionaires of the United States. Other multi-millionaires have given away for philanthropic or educational purposes more millions in a single year than Dr. Pearsons' entire wealth amounted to, yet in proportion Dr. Pearsons gave a much larger share of his wealth than they.
The wealth of other millionaires was never materially diminished by their gifts. In fact, represented only a fraction of their annual income, while Dr. Pearsons, whose total wealth was estimated at about $7,000,000, gave more than five-sevenths of his away more during the last twenty or twenty-five years and, in accordance with the distribution of his entire remaining fortune during his life, thus reserving merely enough to insure himself a comfortable old age.

Dr. Pearsons was born in Bradford, Vt., April 14, 1820, and grew up among the granite hills in poverty. He became a school teacher and then a physician, but not being able to make money rapidly in the latter, he moved to Ohio County, N. Y., where he engaged in farming. In 1850, at the age of thirty, he came to Chicago with his wife, who was Miss Marietta Chapin of Massachusetts. He had $5,000 in cash and began business as a real estate dealer.
His honesty and reliability won him many friends and his business rapidly increased. Living frugally, which he increased still further by judicious investments.

Dr. Pearsons and his wife had neither children nor relatives and the constantly increasing wealth did not appeal to their frugal habits. Mrs.
Pearsons had established a college in Turkey and became interested in missions and Dr. Pearsons had given to the deserving poor in an unostentatious way, before they decided to get rid of their wealth by distributing it among small colleges in poor or sparsely settled localities. They decided not to give money to the large and already liberally endowed colleges and other institutions, but to confine their gifts to such institutions as were of the greatest benefit to the poor. At the age of seventy Dr. Pearsons retired from business and since then he has devoted practically all his time and energy to the welfare of the dis-serving poor. During the last twenty or twenty-five years Dr. Pearsons distributed fully five-sevenths of his wealth among forty-seven colleges and other institutions located in twenty-four states. He made careful study of the situation and the conditions surrounding each college he intended to help and selected those institutions which in his opinion were of the greatest benefit to the poor. Most of the colleges with Dr. Pearsons' gifts are located in the poorer and less populous sections of the West and South.

Among the numerous colleges and other institutions to which Dr. Pear-sons made gifts ranging from $2,000 to $500,000 are: Beloit College, Chicago Theological Seminary, Wilbur College, Colorado College, Berea College, Kentucky Mount Holyoke College, Lake Forest College, Knox Col-posing ceremonies Rev. Father Joseph J. Rice, formerly of Northbridge, Mass., was this morning consecrated as bishop of the Roman Catholic

LINCOLN SHOT 45 YEARS AGO TONIGHT

Ring Worn by Martyred President at Time of His Death Figured in Roosevelt's Inauguration.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Forty-five years ago tonight country, rejoicing over the conclusion of the Civil War, was suddenly plunged into dark gloom by the news of the assassination of President Lincoln by John Wilkes Booth. The President was shot while witnessing a performance of "Our American Cousin," in Ford's Theater in this city. There are still living in Washington several persons who were eye-witnesses of the assassination. Mortally wounded the President was carried from the theater amid a scene of indescribable excitement. He was taken to a house across the street, occupied by a tailor named Peterson, and there he died the next morning, surrounded by the members of his family and the officers of his cabinet. The last survivor of those who were present at Lincoln's death was the late Secretary John Hay. Mr. Hay was given the ring worn by the President at the time of his death. He had it made over with a crystal setting, containing a lock of President Lincoln's hair. It was this ring which President Roosevelt wore at his first inauguration at the request of Mr.
Hay.

REPRESENTATIVE FOSS IN ANOTHER CAMPAIGN

Representative Eugene N. Foss, recently elected from the Fourteenth Massachusetts district, is coming to Rochester tomorrow to speak in behalf of James S. Hays, the Democratic nominee for the seat of the late Representative James B. Por-kings. The campaign is being conducted on the same issue on which Mr. Foss overturned the Massachusetts district—the high cost of living, due to the Aldrich-Payne tariff.

Burlington, Vt., April 14.—The memory of Justin S. Morrill, who represented Vermont in the United States senate for more than forty years, was honored throughout the State today on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of Mr. Morrill's birth.
After serving ten years in the lower

Work in Superior Will Be Completed This Summer.

Superior, Wis., April 14.—President Edmund Pennington, General Manager Huntington and Chief Engineer Green of the Soo line, this afternoon here yesterday and while here Mr. Huntington made the announcement that work on completing terminal facilities here would amount to over $1,000,000 during the present season. Besides, increasing greatly the car handling capacity of the yards in Superior the Soo will shortly let the contract for the construction of an ore dock on St. Louis bay here. This is to handle the ore from the Cuyuna range and Mr. Huntington states that company expects to haul ore to this dock by Aug. 1. Meanwhile what little ore is shipped will go to the company's docks at Ashland. The officials are also trying to push the construction of the new passenger depot in Duluth and when that is ready trains are to be installed between the Twin Ports and Chicago. The date for this service is set for not later than July 1.
Through service from Chicago via the Twin Ports to Winnipeg will depend on the completion of the Thief River Falls cutoff but is expected to be not later than Oct. 1. It is stated that these trains may be made coast trains also. When these projects are out of the way it is the Soo's plan to connect up with the Twin Cities by completing the spur that runs to Frederic in Polk county. No date for this is set as yet, however.

Strikers Return to Work.

The local branch of the striking switchmen were almost unanimous in favor of going back to work under the new scale of wages offered by the company. The vote was 88 to 4. This does not represent the full strength of the union as many have gone away and got new jobs while others have taken new work in the city and will not return to switching.

BURR W. JONES SAID TO BE MAN CHOSEN

ences have been going on all day here between prominent local democrats

Joseph E. Davies, of Madison, for chairman of the state central committee.

Atlanta, Ga., April 14.—The regular championship season of the Southern league starts today with Nashville playing in Memphis, Montgomery in Birmingham, Mobile in New Orleans and Chattanooga in Atlanta. The initial game in New Orleans was played yesterday, the schedule having been advanced one day as a concession to the mystic Shriners in session in that city. Since the close of last

LONDON SHOPKEEPERS AIR THEIR TROUBLES

London, April 14.—London shopkeepers held a mass meeting today for the express purpose of telling their troubles to the police. The particular trouble of which the shopkeepers complain arises, strange to say, from their customers. At present if a merchant makes his window particularly attractive the police disperse the crowds because they interfere with traffic. If this does not restore order the shopkeeper is summoned and fined for creating an obstruction. Today the merchants met to put their views before the Commissioner of Police, demanding that the authorities take steps to regulate the crowds as is done in American cities.

in Value.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Most phenomenal has been the increase in the last twenty years in the value of the wealth produced on the farms of the United States. Figures compiled by the department of agriculture show that an increase of $6,300,000,000 has been made in the period from 1890 to the close of last year. In 1890 the value of the wealth produced on farms in the United States was estimated at $2,400,000,000.

Quantity, of Children
Wanted.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—"Ten years hence to be the father of ten children will be as much a disgrace as being a confirmed drunkard," declared Mrs. Loretta Baker of Spokane, a suffragette who is here attending the convention of the National American Woman Suffrage society which opened today. "Col. Roosevelt is an ignorant man," she continued. "He urges large families, but it is quality we want, not quantity."

IMMENSE BUILDING IS BEING PLANNED

Insurance Company That Had Its Inception in Janesville to Have $2,000,000 Structure.

This morning's Milwaukee papers announce that the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company has just purchased a whole block of land in the Cream City and will erect an immense structure for its own use. In the bit of history published in connection with this new plan the papers say that the company was organized at Janesville, Wis., Nov. 25, 1853, and a charter was granted by the state about six months later to the Mutual Life Insurance company of the state of Wisconsin. The head office was located in the second story of the Exchange block at Janesville and occupied half of one small room. Shortly after it was moved to offices in the Laphin block, Janesville.

March 7, 1859, the head office was moved to Milwaukee and quarters were secured on the second floor of a small shack which stood until a few years ago on the present site of the Railway Exchange building, Wisconsin street and Broadway, the latter better known then as Main street. The annual rental was $200.

On May 1, 1862, the office was moved to the ground floor of the iron block on Wisconsin street, in the store now occupied by James Chacona.

These quarters were retained for a year when more room was required, and on July 23, 1863, the president was authorized to purchase 20x66 feet at the northwest corner of Wisconsin street and Broadway. Later the site was enlarged by the purchase of 20 feet and 10 inches directly west. The ground floor of 416 Broadway was then secured, and the office remained there until April 28, 1870, when it was moved into the so-called "Old Insurance building," on the northwest corner of Wisconsin street and Broadway.

In fifteen years the company outgrew these quarters, and the trustees purchased the old Nowhall house, also at the northwest corner of Broadway and Michigan street. Here was erected the granite and sand stone building, the company has occupied since April, 1886. It was called the "New Insurance building," and at that time the officials of the company thought it never would become crowded in the ample space provided.

In less than twenty-five years the necessity for a suitable building for the safe keeping of the securities, records, books and valuable papers, as well as for the convenient transaction of the company's business requires again considerable increase in vault and office room, and this will be provided in the great structure which is to be erected on the property.

PIPE SPECIALIST THE PEN ROBBER?

Chief Baker of Racine Thinks Identity May Be Established—Chief Applyby Grieved By Wholesale Criticism.

Henry C. Baker, head of the Racine police department, in a lengthy communication received by Chief of Police George Applyby this morning, states that he has been in touch with the Chicago department since Christmas time with reference to burglaries committed by George H. Robinson, alias Wilson or Johnson, and that Detective Sergeant John P. Sheehan of the Central station has written him regarding the Parker Pen Co. robbery and entertains an impression that Robinson may have been connected in some way with it. The Chicago office has not yet succeeded in locating him for the Racine authorities.

This G. H. Robinson, it appears, broke into M. J. Hermann & Co.'s store on Dec. 25 and got away with merchandise valued at $400. Trackings of his signatures at hotels where he has registered either as G. H. Wilson or B. H. Wilson of St. Paul have been secured and were forwarded by Chief Baker. At Racine he made a pretense of selling a patent on an adjustable monkey-wrench. He is described as a man 45 years of age, 5 feet, 6 inches in height, sallow complexioned, with light hair and blue eyes and the tip of one of his index fingers deformed. A search for some trace of his handwriting in the local hotel registers for a period of several weeks is being conducted.

Chief Applyby is not indifferent to the snap-judgment criticism that is being passed on the local department for failure to apprehend the authors of several recent robberies, and he thinks that it is undeserved. "We are doing our best," he said this morning, "to solve these problems. The thieves are getting busy all over the country just now and Janesville is receiving its share of attention. Buckford, Madison, La Crosse, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and even Milwaukee police officers are trying to unravel some perplexing crimes of the same character."

"As a general thing the merchants and other business men do not exercise sufficient care. In the cases of two saloons, for instance—the back door of one was not properly secured, and in the other instance the proprietor left his place unguarded with back and front doors open and $30 exposed on the back bar. In such cases all the police officers in the country would not be ample protection against theft."

"The Parker Pen Co. robbery has MANY DOCTORS PRESCRIBE proprietary medicines under a Latin name charging for the written prescription three times the cost of the medicine, and do not hesitate to condemn that self-same medicine if it is advertised or mentioned by the public.

There are, however, many honest doctors who do not hesitate to openly recommend and prescribe such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for sale at Smith's Pharmacy, The Rexall Store, as well as other Patent Medicines advertised in this paper.

some aspects which puzzle. It is difficult to understand why the burglar should have taken the risk of climbing up on an exposed side of the building when entrance could have been effected just as easily after cover. That "professionals" should have done this kind of work is a very strange and mystifying circumstance. But then, there are circumstances just as baffling connected with most robberies of this kind.

"Detection of the criminal is never certain even when every resource is resorted to and exhausted. I remember that when the Pen Co. was robbed before and when Hostwick & Sons were relieved of $10,000 worth of silks, Chief Hogan sent me with Mr. Hostwick to Chicago and the latter employed three detectives from the Central station to aid us in the work. We were there two or three days running down every clue. But there were no results and so far as I know not a penny's worth of the merchandise was ever recovered. The Hull & Sayles robbery was another mystery that has never been cleared up. It is mighty difficult to catch these chaps once they have made their getaway. I don't think the public appreciates just how difficult.

"We are doing the best we can and will welcome any suggestion that may be made for the good of the department by any well-meaning citizen."

It turned out on investigation that the supposed burglar's keys found on the shipping table were a collection taken from Mr. Palmer's desk. The insurance adjuster was here yesterday to secure the information with which to frame his report to headquarters.

Nearly all of the plate glass windows on the ground floor of the Jackson block and, according to reports, in other quarters of the business district, have been badly damaged by the application of hydrochloric acid by some malicious miscreant. The corrosion in some instances measuring an eighth of an inch in diameter. Notice was first taken of the occurrence when an attempt was made to clean some of the windows and the supposed blurs did not yield to soap and water. It is difficult to believe that any sane person could have conceived and executed this wanton act. From all reports the work was done in the night time several evenings ago.

was again rendering himself liable to the charge of partisanship. "I will probably be again excluded by the Republican majority from serving on the investigating committee of this House," he added. "When you discuss on this floor the attempted offense of men high in the councils of the Republican party, they answer by charging you with partisanship. I am well aware that the offense of men high in the councils of the Republican party has been fully recognized here by insurgents and Democrats alike on the other side of this chamber, and I have been adjudged guilty of it; but I propose to again render myself liable to the same charge. In the early days of the Republic the old rule prevailed that a man in public life must be above suspicion; the rule now is that you must not suspect."

The annuals of Congress he said would be searched in vain to find another message by a President advising against a Congressional investigation under similar facts. Going into the details of tariff legislation Mr. Taft depicted the methods of the Standard Oil monopoly. In attempting to control the production of sugar far beyond the boundaries of the United States, by manipulating legislation he said they had caused themselves of the sugar supply of Hawaii. All the time he said the trust was contributing to the republican campaign fund, and which deemed advisable it gave to the democratic party. Cuban annexation or independence he said depended upon the interests of the trust in exploiting the raw sugar of that island. When the purposes of the trust could be served best by the annexation of Cuba he declared a revolution would be started in that island. The admission of 300,000 tons of Philippine sugar he insisted was but a move to help swell the coffers of the sugar monopoly.

Coming down to the building of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refinery in Philadelphia in 1903 by Adolph Sogal he showed how that concern, created to sell to the sugar trust, had by a process of lending money for its completion drifted into the control of the trust. Being sold by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refinery Co., he said, it became necessary for the trust to engage additional counsel, and they turned to the firm of Strong and Cadwalader "one of those important New York City legal firms to which great corporations appeal for aid when they propose to violate the laws of the land, or when they have violated the laws of the land."

Citing the names of this firm as including those of George W. Wickersham and Henry W. Taft he said he gave the list of the firm after President Taft's inauguration when Mr. Wickersham had become attorney general and Henry W. Taft had been moved up from fourth to second place in the list of members.

When the case of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Co. against the trust came up on March 20, 1908, in the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York the name of Henry W. Taft he said appeared as counsel for the sugar trust.

"This situation," he said, "discloses the fact that in the hour of their greatest stress the managers of this most infamous of all corporations were as resourceful as ever. Matters had been so arranged that a sugar trust lawyer became attorney general of the United States, and the brother of the President of the United States became openly one of the attorneys for the sugar trust."

He was aware he said that the Attorney General had read into the Congressional Record a statement denying that he had been an attorney for the sugar trust. "It may be that the Attorney General was not consulted in this suit, and it may be that he did not render any service in connection with it," said Mr. Taft. "But the Attorney General has not yet stated how the enormous fee of the firm of Strong and Cadwalader received was divided. Did the Attorney General refuse to accept any portion of it? The country would like to know. He neglected to inform the public, the partner to whom he refers, the member of the firm of Strong and Cadwalader who was active in the defense of the American Sugar Refining Company in these cases, was the brother of the President of the United States."

"I submit that the Attorney General ought not to seek to avoid even an inactive connection with this infamous trust by throwing the entire burden and the disgrace of such connection upon the brother of the President of the United States."

But he continued on June 27, 1909, the Attorney General wrote to John A. Wise, United States District Attorney for the Southern District of New York, a letter in which Mr. Taft thought should go into the Congressional Record. In this letter Mr. Wickersham suggested to Mr. Wise in respect to the sugar trust cases that "a strong effort will be made to inform to persuade the President to interior in some way to prevent the indictments."

"I respectfully contend," concluded Mr. Taft, "that the Republican majority in this House can not afford to longer delay a Congressional investigation; and the millions of taxpayers who are responsible for the perpetration of these gigantic frauds ought to be held up to the contempt of the country. In Pittsburgh they have learned how to reach the men higher up. The men whose conviction is not important but who are only tools in the hands of the principal malefactor, and as a result minor city officials were a few days ago coming by score in Pittsburgh to the office of the Prosecuting Attorney and telling their stories. Implicating the real criminals. And the time may not be far distant when men who pass in Pittsburgh as respectable citizens will pay the penalty to which their criminal conduct has rendered them liable. The attorney general of the United States, however, renounces his prosecution and settles them with impunity."

checkers, and the real persons guilty of the most colossal fraud in the history of our government are permitted to go about without punishment, without exposure, still posing as honest men, still willing and still able to contribute to the campaign funds of the Republican party."

Triumph for Americans.

The English hostess for various reasons, the principal one being that she cannot help herself, now accepts the invasion of her American sister, the magnificence of her entertainments and the wonderful individuality of her costumes with equanimity, says a writer. The days are long since past when the American woman had difficulty in making a place for herself in English society, and past also are the days when she was treated as a curiosity and expected to act and talk after the manner of the immortal Ducky Miller. Nowadays she reigns supreme. In fact, it is fashionable to be American.

A PORK AND RICE NIGHT.

A Chicago reporter, after eating a dinner consisting largely of pork and rice had an exciting nocturnal assignment. The day following he happened to read a "hint" on the effect of mixing foods, which pass out of the stomach in a short time, such as rice (one hour); such as pork (five hours); with others which remain long in the stomach; and now he is an interested reader of the "Daily Diet Hints." There are people who would fain believe that it makes no difference what one eats, since "mind is all," but they are either "joined to their idols," or lack of ordinary power of observation and reasoning. A certain degree of abandon is necessary as an antidote to worry, but to utterly disregard the choice of food is inconsistent with intelligence. The remarkable interest developed in diet, from the scientific and practical standpoint during the past few years, is one of the happy signs of advancement.

Hard Work to Win Success.

What costs a man little usually is worth little. Examine into the great lives and you will find the amount of toll that lies behind them is immense and that every laurel in their crowns was placed there by downright, honest, hard work at the expense of body or brain.

Made of Hard, Stiff Wire, of Highest Quality

A Heavy American Fence Costs You No More
Per Rod Than Lighter Fences of Other Makes

A roll of heavy fence means big wire. Big wire means more strength and longer life. Insist upon the dealer weighing the roll of fence he sells you. This will tell the story quicker than any other way, for you cannot always tell the size of wire by eye. American Fence will stand this test against any fence made, and will prove its greater weight. Why, then, pay the same money for a lighter fence?

American Fence is made of hard, stiff steel. It is made of a quality of wire drawn expressly for woven-wire-fence purposes by the largest manufacturers of wire in the world. Galvanized by latest improved processes, the best that the skill and experience of years has taught. Built on the same elastic hinged-joint (patented) principle, which effectually protects the stay or upright wires from breaking under hard usage.

Test, judge and compare American Fence under any and all conditions and you will find that the steel, the structure and the galvanizing are equal in durability, strength and efficiency to the best of the world.

PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED BY MAYOR

CITIZENS URGED TO AID THE CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

WORK BEGINS ON FRIDAY

Mayor Carle Would Like To See Janesville Given the Full Representation That It Deserves.

To the citizens of the City of Janesville:

It has been a question with many whether the city of Janesville has had a correct census taken for some time. We have had many new houses built in the last twenty years, they are practically all occupied, but few vacant houses in the city, yet the census as taken in that time does not show the increase in population the new houses would indicate. We are about to have a new census taken. We all wish to have it taken accurately and correct. Allow me to request all, when called upon by the enumerators, to aid and assist them and get a correct count.

W. F. CARLE,
Mayor.

This work should and will have a special interest to the people of Janesville, for there will be a natural desire in every quarter to have the count made as accurately as possible, thereby to give each city its proper standing. In the past much bitterness has developed in some cities over the poor showing made when higher estimates had been fondly held. Milwaukee and Detroit newspapers engaged in a bitter debate over the population of their respective cities, the census showing that Detroit had one or two thousand more people than Milwaukee. Milwaukee citizens argued that they had not been adequately taxed and that a true enumeration would show Milwaukee to have a lead over her sister city.

In Kansas City the chamber of commerce has named a special committee to map out the city and furnish information to the enumerators which will enable the latter to make a full and accurate count of the inhabitants. In this way it is expected to have every resident counted, and it is believed the population of the place will be swelled by a number of thousands who otherwise might be overlooked. A similar plan will probably not be tried here but the people should make an effort individually to aid the enumerators in ways above mentioned. In spite of the pains and carefulness of the enumerators, it is a well known fact that usually some residents who are entitled to be counted fail to get their names down. The figures taken this year will stand for five years as the designated population of Janesville, and if they can be legitimately increased, it will be an advantage to the city.

FORUM NINE DEFEATED RUSK LYCEUM YESTERDAY

First Of Series of Inter-Society Baseball Games Played At Athletic Park Yesterday.

In the first of the series of baseball games between the two boys' literary societies at the high school, the Forum team defeated the Rusk Lyceum nine yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park by the score of 8 to 4. There have been considerable rivalry along foreign lines between the two debating clubs and this has extended to yesterday. Yesterday's contest was very interesting and exciting. At one time the Rusk players had a slight lead over the Forumites. Murphy was in the box for the Forum with Henning as backstop. Kora twice tried for the Rusk and Koch was behind the bat. The game was umpired by Prof. L. F. Rahr.

MUST APPLY AGAIN FOR NATURALIZATION

Sheboygan Man, Who Renounced Wrong Ruler, Refused Citizenship Papers.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Sheboygan, Wis., April 14.—Because he renounced the wrong ruler, Nicholas Strayer was refused naturalization papers in circuit court Tuesday, and if he wants to become a citizen of the United States now he will have to go through the complete process of naturalization again. In his first papers, issued in 1896, he renounced allegiance to Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany while, as he is a native of Luxembourg, an independent principality, he should have renounced allegiance to the grand duke of Luxembourg. Several were granted their first papers, while six who applied were absent at the examination, and their applications must be heard at the next term of circuit court.

DELOIT FARMER BADLY INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

William Moore Thrown From Wagon In Which He Was Driving—College Remembers Benefactor's Birthday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Beloit, April 14.—William Moore, a farmer living west of the city, was thrown from his wagon in a runaway last evening and sustained serious injuries. He was taken to the emergency hospital for treatment. A gasoline traction engine is hauling a gangplow with eight to twelve wheels on a big farm near the city and is an attraction to many Beloit people. The engine is the product of a Beloit factory and is being given a try-out and is making good. Beloit college sent a letter to Dr. D. K. Pearson, its benefactor, today, in recognition of Dr. Pearson's 50th birthday. Dr. Pearson has assisted colleges in twenty-four states but has done more for Beloit college than for any other school.

Mr. Hennessy, in the meantime, promising to use his influence to secure an advance.

COMPARISON OF JAP AND AMERICAN NAVY AND TWO LEADING NAVAL OFFICERS OF TWO NATIONS.

D. A. R. MOVING INTO ITS NEW QUARTERS.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president of the D. A. R. and an interior view of the auditorium just completed.

Washington, D. C.—After months of hard work and careful planning by the officers of the daughters of the American Revolution the magnificent new home is completed and is now occupied. At the time of the elevations about a year ago the building was so far under way that many of the rooms were used, but it has taken the balance of last summer and this winter to complete the interior work and place the furniture and fixtures.

In the D. A. R. building American women have one of the finest edifices devoted exclusively to women in the world.

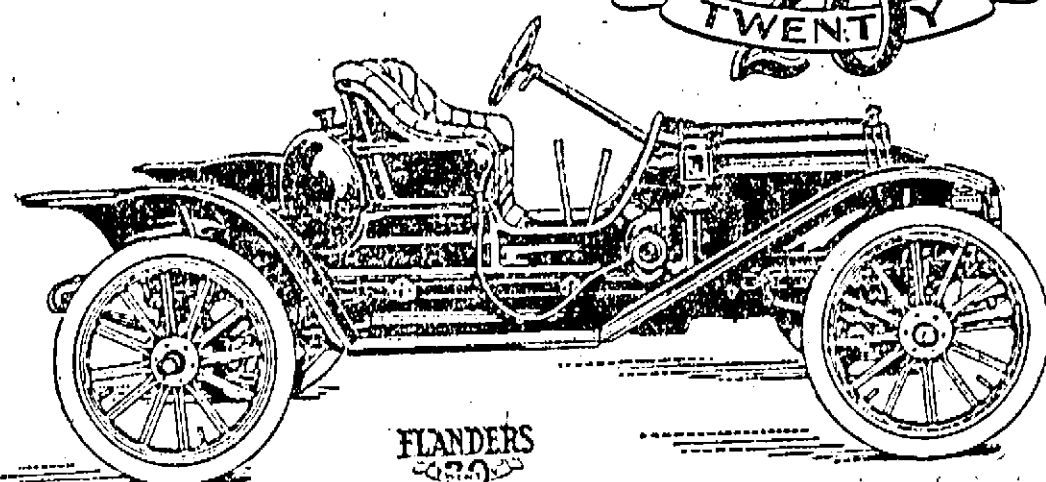

ONE OF THE ELIRA COATS.

This is one of the new and smart coats particularly suited for tall women. It is a two-piece affair, with elaborate stitching and draped right side. The shawl collar has inset pieces of velvet.

FIREMEN BURNED ; MUCH EXCITEMENT

SIX FIREMEN LOSE LIVES WHEN NEW HAVEN (CONN.) JAIL BURNS.

SCORE OF OTHERS INJURED

Great Excitement Prevailed Among 280 Prisoners But All Are Safely Removed to City Prison by Aid of State Troops.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 14.—In a fire which partially destroyed the county jail and completely burned the New England chair factory adjoining, six firemen were burned to death and 20 others were seriously injured. Fifty convicts employed in the chair factory were removed in safety.

When the fire broke out there were 280 prisoners in the jail. They were greatly excited by the noise and smoke, which poured into the jail from the blazing chair factory. They were kept in their cells, however, until the explosion of a small boiler spread the flames to the jail proper.

Troops Guard Convicts.

The prisoners were then marched out on the lawn and so carefully guarded that not one escaped. Under escort of detachments from the New Haven Grays, the New Haven Blues and the New Haven Foot Guards, they were transferred in patrol wagons and automobiles to the city prison, where they were packed in like sardines.

Control of the fire was secured after a damage of $175,000 had been sustained. As soon as the ruins cooled a search was made for the six missing firemen. Their bodies were found alongside the nozzles of their burned hose lines, where they had fallen after the explosion.

GRAFTERS RESCUED BY COURT.

Pittsburg Big Scandal Still Grows—Three Ex-Councilmen Confess.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 14.—Though District Attorney Blakeley did not proceed with the trial of the seven councilmen whose names were on the criminal court list, charged with grafting, the hands of the prosecutor of Pittsburg's gigantic graft scandal were strengthened all along the line, and further efforts to defeat the course of the law met with rebuffs.

Three former councilmen who have been declaring that they would stand put and fight to the finish, pleaded no defense and received the immunity. Efforts to harass the prosecution by bringing technical objections into the case of another were filed.

WANT NO RAILROAD ATTORNEY.

State Commissioners to Petition Taft on Brewer Vacancy.

Lincoln, Neb., April 14.—The Nebraska state railway commission has inaugurated a movement by which its members will attempt to influence President Taft against the appointment of any person who has been a railroad attorney to fill the vacancy in the bench of the United States Supreme court made vacant by the death of Justice Brewer. The commission is sending a letter to the railway commissioners of other states asking them to join in the movement.

The safebreakers escaped by boarding an outbound freight train on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad.

I. C. LOSES $1,000,000 IS STARTLING REPORT

Army of Sleuths Looking Into Alleged Conspiracy to Defraud Rail Road Corporation.

Chicago, April 14.—Exposure of an alleged conspiracy through which the Illinois Central railroad has been defrauded out of hundreds of thousands—some say a million—of dollars is expected soon accompanied by arrests of the alleged conspirators.

Though the operations of the grafting officials are said to have extended along many angles, the investigation has had its center in the car repair department, where marked results of bookkeeping are said to have been found by special auditors and detectives working for the Burns & Sheridan National Detective agency. W. J. Burns, head of the agency, is the detective who turned up the San Francisco graft ring.

The men who are connected with the graft ring are prominent in railroad circles and the climax of the investigation, which will be the signal for their arrest, will create a scandal such as the transportation world probably has seldom seen.

The investigator of the investigation is J. T. Harahan, president of the railroad.

STOCK "CLUB" BRINGS PRINTING.

New York Exchange Said to Be Ally of American Bank Note Company.

Albany, N. Y., April 14.—George P. Kordahl, president of the New York Bank Note company, told the assembly ways and means committee that the American Bank Note company has a working agreement with the New York Stock exchange under which the stock listing committee of the exchange refuses to list stock of corporations which do not have their bonds and stock certificates printed by the American Bank Note company.

"The stock in the American Bank Note company is largely held by members of the New York Stock exchange," he said.

The difference in the price which the American Bank Note company charges and other companies would charge, is roughly about $5,000 a day, or $1,500,000 a year. And still no one has been able to break the monopoly. The public pays the excess cost and it pays it to the New York Stock exchange.

The innovation will cost the company at least $150,000 annually.

TAFT'S RAIL BILL IS AMENDED.

All Complaints to Be Included in Commerce Court.

Washington, April 14.—The senate adopted an amendment to the administration railroad bill, permitting the inclusion of complaints in suits before the proposed court of commerce growing out of orders of the interstate commerce commission.

In this the insurgents and their Democratic allies won a victory. The committee's original proposition was to permit the appearance of complainants only through counsel. As agreed upon the provision permits all persons interested to become parties to the suit. The more liberal provision was conceded by the supporters of the bill, and there was no voting division.

WEDDING GIFTS

"Oh, Fred!" exclaimed the engaged girl to the engaged young man who had just entered the hall door. Then she threw herself into his arms and burst into tears.

"Why, Kathie," gasped the mystified Fred, "what's up?"

"Oh, Fred!" moaned Katharine amid strangled sobs. "Did you ever see anything more hideous in all your life?" She held up something round, smooth and pearly white in color. "Think of wearing it! Think of it, Fred! Oh, of all spiteful creatures, girls are the worst!"

Katharine sniffed recuperatively and dabbed a bit of lace upon her discolored eyes. Presently she was in a condition to tell her story.

"The Alpha Zeta girls did it just because it makes them jealous to think that I'm about to marry such a splendid man as you. They are, Fred," she insisted as the young man smiled a bit incredulously. "Through its fairness to them, I will admit there is the smallest chance possible of their having actually imagined that I'd like this frightful thing."

"You see," began Katharine confidentially as she settled herself comfortably beside the young man, "when Clara Frazier was married last June the Alpha Zeta decided to give her a handsome bracelet. And I gave in my little $1.50—1, who love Clara as I should love a viper. Do you remember, Fred, when you both happened to be on the same train going to Detroit a year ago? Of course, I know that you were merely polite to her, but she actually made so much out of your attentions to her when she told about them that the girls thought you and I were on the point of quarrelling. Since then Clara and I have kept up a perfect hellion of friendship. If we meet as often as three times a day she always kisses me on both cheeks and, opening her eyes wide, inquires sweetly, 'How's Fred?'"

"Well, to get back to Clara's wedding present, I was one of the committee of three appointed to select the bracelet. For some reason or other we put off making the purchase till the last day. By that time Carrie had sprained her ankle roller skating and Helen had to help her mother pack for a trip to New York, so I was left to choose the gift all by myself."

"I had a perfectly miserable time, Fred. All the way downtown I juggled impossible designs up and down in my mind. By the time the salesman began bringing out tray after tray of bracelets for my inspection I was utterly confused."

"Of course, some of them were dreams. There were gay Arabian designs and hand-wrought orientals. I saw a silver bracelet set with turquoise, native drilled and warranted never to fade. There was a beauty in rose-gold with enamel flower tracings and studs of pearls. But did I select one of these? Never!"

"I waved aside all the lovely ones and chose a silver banded affair. It was an ugly Wall of Troy pattern set with eight lapis lazulis and three cream jewels. There wasn't a bit of high light on the articles. Altogether it was the ugliest bracelet I ever saw in all my life—except this one here."

"I was ashamed to think what the handsome young salesman might conclude about my intellect, so I told him that the bracelet was not for me, but for an elderly person of peculiar tastes. Of course he is elderly, and if Clara weren't odd she never would have dreamed that she could make that sweet-minded Billy Thompson happy for life."

"As I expected, the girls all looked rather shocked when I opened the white velvet box for their inspection; but though the praises were tame, no serious complaints were lodged, so the bracelet was sent to Clara."

"Tears were in Katharine's voice as she went on. "Fred, we received a wedding present to-day!" She crushed tightly in her hand the white velvet box. "Inside was an Alpha card. There were also the same banded silver and the same Wall of Troy, with eight lapis lazulis and three cream jewels! A twin monstrosity to the bracelet I selected for Clara!" Tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Oh, I'm nearly through crying," she declared, "but I want to tell you, Ferdinand Augustus Milton Stoll, that you can just make up your mind to use this bracelet to chain on the cover of the ash can or bolt the kitchen door. It may do to tie up the bull pup. As for my wearing it—"

She rose impulsively and the white velvet box went spinning across the room. The bracelet rolled out and lay on the rug.

"Oh, Fred," sobbed Katharine, as she sank pathetically back on the divan, "wouldn't you be awfully afraid to marry me to-morrow if I were as spiteful as some girls?"

How a Disappointment Feels. "Yes, sir," Uncle Eben said to his nephew, "there are all kinds of disappointments in this world, Charley, and some of 'em are worse'n others. But they're all just ways of feelin' bad for a minute, I guess."

"'Taint the disappointin' disappointin' I ever have in when I feel and feel like sneezin' and it won't sneeze! That kinder gives you a notion of how all disappointments feel till you get over them."—Youth's Companion.

What will the Boston Americans do during the coming season?

That is the question that is being asked every day by baseball fans throughout the country. The Red Sox gained a lot of friends last season by the game fight they made all the way and the speed and dash that they shot into all their games. The lack of a pitching staff had much to do with their failure to be right there on the field. There never was any doubt as to the hitting, base running and fielding ability of that aggregation, made up mostly of young players.

There are two ways of glorifying the Red Sox. Last season it was a team made up of young players for the greater part. Under normal conditions you could expect that these would improve this season and form a better working machine. But conditions aren't normal. Fred Lake was dropped as manager because he could not come to terms with Owner Taylor, and Patsy Donovan took the management. Now Donovan must be put down as a failure as a big league manager. Therefore it is a case of putting one year's experience against the manager and it looks as though the experience part would be over-shadowed, that is that the Red Sox cannot be counted on to show the form expected of them had Lake continued as manager. They may land in the first division, but it will be a struggle from the start.

Donovan was a famous player in his time, having seeing service with many big league outfits. For two years he managed Brooklyn, succeeding Thayer, but he was unable to bring the Trojans out of the mire. Harry Lord, the field captain of the Red Sox, is counted as the best third baseman in the business today, although comparatively young in baseball.

Boston has been prominent in American league baseball in years before 1909, when the club was the greatest cause of worry to both the Tigers and Athletics. In 1903 and 1904 Jimmy Collins led teams that took first honors in the American. The 1903 team won extraordinary honor for itself by leading Pittsburgh four straight games after the Pirates had won three, thus bringing the world's pennant to Boston. The next season the New York Nationals refused to play off for the honors. After that the great machine was shot to pieces. In 1905 it dropped back to fourth place. In 1906 Boston finished last, but a notch higher than 1907. Then came some improvement and a fifth place in 1908, while the machine was building and the season of 1909 that made the club feared by all with pennant aspirations. Jim McFadden started building up this machine, but his trouble was with Taylor's policy in his release and the subsequent signing of Lord. The old New Yorker pulled the club together and got them going nicely only to lose out at the end of the season.

Everyone who was with Boston last season is back this year. There is not one player that can be figured at going back. All are coming into their own as ball players, good for many seasons more. Jack Stahly is at first, McConnell at second, Wagner at short and Lord at third. This infield, taken all around on hitting, fielding and base running, is hard to beat, while French, a utility man, can slip in anywhere except at first, very nicely. Thoney Miles and Spencer form an outfield that is unbreakable when speed is commanded.

All three are legends on the bases. All three are the ones who have to chase Ty Cobb hardest for hitting honors this season. Carberry is undoubtedly the best catcher in the American league and has Donovan to help him out.

The pitching staff, inexperienced last season, is one of the largest in the league. Karger is due to come into his own. Arreola was a swell 1909 performer, as were Cleotis and Wood, while one of the most promising recruits is Lefroy, secured from Minneapolis.

PROF. WILEY ON COLD STORAGE.

Declares Nine Months Is Limit for Any Article of Food.

Washington, April 14.—Nine months should be the cold storage limit for any article of food, according to Professor Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, agricultural department, Senator Lodge, from the senate committee investigating the increased cost of food products, submitted to the senate a report on cold storage and its effects by Doctor Wiley. It was very voluminous and dealt with the subject in detail, the conclusions of the expert being based upon investigations conducted by his experts. Cold storage, he says, is justified by two legitimate reasons. Many products are not suitable for consumption at the time of production and are improved by keeping them a reasonable time, and others are kept in fit condition by the agency of cold storage until they can be put before the consumer.

SUGAR FRAUD PROBE IS HALTED.

Congress Will Make no Inquiry—More Indictments Expected Soon.

Washington, April 14.—A fresh batch of indictments in the sugar trust frauds will be handed down within two weeks by the special federal grand jury, which has been probing the scandal at New York.

Assurance of this fact was given by officials who have been actively engaged in prosecuting the trust.

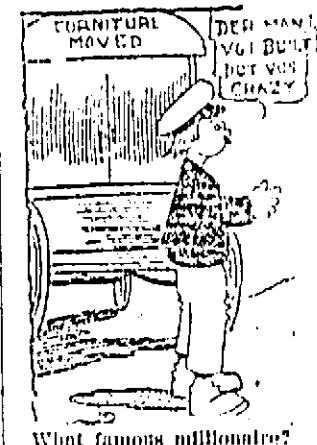

By reason of the moves that the department of justice is about to make, there will be no congressional investigation of the sugar trust. This was confirmed after Congressman Hill of Connecticut had conferred with the president, when the congressman declared that he would not urge such an investigation because it might interfere with the plan which the administration is working on.

One cent per month for repairs

CADILLAC CAR AGAIN BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR LOW COST OF UPKEEP

Th fifty owners in Dayton, O., territory drive aggregate of 108,580 miles at total cost for repairs of $6.70, averaging 3371 miles per car and 12 cents each for repairs.

Statistics were recently published in New York showing that 75 Cadillac "Thirty" owners had driven their cars 298,881 miles at the amazingly low repair cost of $53.21.

It was said at the time that they constituted the most remarkable record of the kind in the history of transportation.

Based on the books of the New York achievement comes the claim of a second city, showing a still lower cost of upkeep than has even been recorded.

The 75 Cadillac owners in New York city expended an average for the year of 71 cents per car, while the 50 owners in Dayton, O., and vicinity show a total cost for repairs of $6.70, or the insignificant average of 12 cents per car for the entire year, or 1 cent per month per car.

The 75 New York owners were not aware that their travels and their expenses were to be made a matter of record, and the 50 Dayton owners were likewise unconscious of the fact that they were rolling up a world-breaking record.

In both instances the cars were simply driven at the will of the owners—anywhere and everywhere. There was no particular striving for economy, no more than any user would naturally give his car.

Of the 75 Cadillac owners in New York, 46 had no repairs at all—and Dayton shows a more remarkable achievement than this.

Of the 50 Cadillac owners in Dayton territory, 45 had no repairs and only five had any expense whatever.

Of these five the highest expenditure was that of A. G. Rundle, of Plaquemine, O., whose car cost him $2.60 during the year, and was driven a distance of 20,000 miles. The next highest expenditure was that of C. F. Keeler, of Dayton, who spent $1.50; the next was that of W. H. Nye, of Trenton, O., who spent 75 cents; the next, G. W. Julian, of Greenville, O., who spent 50 cents, and the fifth and last was Matt Marr, of Miamisburg, who spent 40 cents.

While it is possible that there may be other makes of cars which can show cases of low upkeep cost in occasional instances, yet it is safe to say that the records here cited, taking one type of car as a whole, have never even approached in motor car history.

The manufacturers of the Cadillac, while naturally gratified, take the stand that the experience of New York and Dayton owners is probably duplicated in every locality in the United States where a considerable number of Cadillacs are driven.

They point to uniformly low cost of upkeep as proof of the well-known policy which the Cadillac company has held from its inception; that the perfect car and the car of greatest economy, must, of necessity, be the result of complete standardization.

They contend that New York and Dayton have simply confirmed what has been known to the builders of the Cadillac and to hundreds of users in past years, to wit: That the Cadillac is an exemplification of scientific design and accurate workmanship which has no parallel in the industry.

A Showing of the Latest Conceits in Tailored Suits of Pongee and Rajah

The Big Store is now displaying one of the largest and best lines of the new Pongee and Rajah tailored suits shown in Southern Wisconsin.

These novelties are much in vogue and like all other good things will soon be snapped up by the women most eager for fashion's best creations.

A feature of the showing is the remarkable color range which includes natural pongees, light and dark grays, old rose, black and the new oyster grays.

The coats have the long shawl collar effect, 32-inch lengths, trimmings of covered buttons in two colors, silk corded buttons, Persian collars and cuffs, also moire and satin collars and cuffs piped with black and contrasting colors. Coats are all lined with plain and fancy silks. The skirts are plaited in clusters and fitted effects. Simplicity of design and perfect tailoring and workmanship throughout stamp these garments as of the highest class.

PRICES RANGE $25, $28, $30, $35, $38, $40

Selections can now be made from our very complete line. If you have in mind the purchase of one of these handsome suits we advise early buying as we will be unable to get more of them later.

We cannot emphasize too strongly the values represented in this line. We bought them at a price most advantageous and offer them on a much closer basis than you would expect for such high grade suits.

NEW ARROW TOY

Shoots Straight as Crossbow and is Easy to Make.

A novel toy which is a cross between a bow and arrow and a crossbow, and which can be made by any boy, has been designed by a Massachusetts man. It shoots straight and true and can easily be carried in the pocket. Take a round piece of wood about three or four inches long and an inch or two thick and a half thick in place of an old cartain pole will do nicely. Bore a hole through it transversely large enough to admit the stick to be used as an arrow. Then bore holes about half an inch deep in each end and

COMPACT AND EASY TO CARRY.

head a piece of stout wire into a long handle with the ends tauting in and forming axes for the roll to revolve on.
Tuck a piece of strong rubber, or several pieces, to the ends of the wooden roll to form the bow. Finally, take a straight, thin young stick, notch one end slightly, thrust it through the hole in the wood and fit it in the rubber. When this is drawn back and let fly it will be found that the guidance provided by the wooden roll will give you accurate aim.

FOURTEEN YEARS.
Customer—Do you keep a good cure for corns?
Druggist—Yes, sir. Here is an excellent preparation. One of my customers has been using it for the last 14 years with very good results.

Health Record, During Year Ending April 1, 1910, Has Been Good, According to Health Officers' Report.

Monroe, April 14.—The annual report of Health Officer Dr. W. B. Guadalupa shows a very good health record for this city for the year ending April 1, 1910. There has been no epidemic of infectious or contagious diseases.
The few cases of contagious diseases were placed under quarantine and every precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease. After the patient recovered the places were thoroughly fumigated in accordance with the regulations of the state board of health. The death ratio has been very low, it being about at a ratio of twelve to one thousand. There have been sixty-four deaths, thirty-two male and thirty-two female, two of which resulted out of the city.

Memorial Day.

of the M. E. church at 7 p. m. The organization of the Brotherhood will be perfected at this time. A program of music and speeches is to be rendered.

Child's Bravery Saved Lives.
The story of a boy's heroism comes from the Melbourne district of Australia.
Mrs. Williams had been boiling hops, and, thinking she had extinguished the fire, went out visiting to a neighbor, leaving three children in the house. The eldest boy, nine years of age, suddenly saw the ceiling alight. He ran after his mother, but hearing the flames crackling, and seeing them spreading, he rushed back, entering the house, and dragged out his brother and sister. By the time the boy was able to get hold of his sister the flames were within three feet of the door. He was badly burnt himself, but the others escaped unhurt.

Necktie Party At Rockford Tomorrow
Janesville People Have Been Invited
—Historic Cook County Scaffold Will Be Used.
Through the courtesy of Ezra Marriott, formerly of this city, recently a member of the Rockford Star staff, and at present engaged in the newspaper business at Joliet, one and possibly two Janesville people will be admitted to the hanging of Clinton St.
Chair in the Forest City shortly before eight o'clock tomorrow morning.
It is to be hoped that their experiences will not be similar to that of the former Rock county sheriff who accepted such an invitation in the same locality and after repeatedly offering to assist in the operation, fell to the floor faint when the trap was springing.
The historic scaffold of the Cook county jail which was built 25 years ago and upon which forty-one men were executed, has been loaned to the neighboring county of Winnebago and its forty-second victim will be the murderer of Mrs. McIntosh.
The scaffold has never failed in its grim purpose during its entire history, and for this reason it was sought by the Rockford authorities. Once in 1891, during the execution of George Palmer, a rope broke, but this was no sign of weakness in the scaffold itself.
It was after the conviction and sentencing of three Italians on a charge of murder in 1885 that this instrument of execution was built, and the three men were suspended from its timbers one morning of that year. Another triple execution in which it figured was that of the three car barn bandits in April, 1904.
Five anarchists were hanged from it on Nov. 11, 1887, the greatest loss of life in a single day through its instrumentality. Other well-known characters who expiated their crimes there were Eugene Prendergast, who murdered Mayor Carter H. Harrison, Sr.; Richard G. Lyons, who killed Mrs.
Holbert, and John H. Loch, the "modern Bluebeard," who married

Both Waiting for Chance.
A cynical man buried his wife a few days back in grand style. His most intimate friend asked why he had expended such a lavish sum on her funeral. Whining a sad amber drop from his left optic, the widower sighed: "She would have done as much or more for me with pleasure, dear boy."

PASTY FOOD
Too Commonly Used.
The use of pasty cereals is not advisable. A physician says: Pasty cereals are very indigestible and a bad thing for the stomach, causing a distressed feeling and quite a train of disorders, particularly of the intestine and nerves.
Cereals, such as wheat and oats, can be cooked long enough, and well enough to fit them for human use but the ordinary way of cooking leaves them in a pasty condition.
A gentleman from Evansville, Ind., says:
"My physician prohibited the use of oats and wheat for I was in a bad condition physically, with pronounced dyspepsia.
"He said the heavy paste was indigestible but that Grape-Nuts, being a thoroughly cooked food and cooked in such a manner as to change the starch into a peculiar sugar, could be easily digested.
"I have become very fond indeed of Grape-Nuts and all the uncomfortable feelings have disappeared. I have gained nearly twelve pounds in weight and have none of the distressed, full feeling after my meals that I had formerly.
Grape-Nuts food has done the work."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in plks. "There's a Benson."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Wireless Telephone Test.
A recent test of wireless telephony was made to show its value of transmitting music. Several selections were sung in a transmitter at Park avenue and Fortieth street, New York, and were listened to by a group of newspaper men at the Metropolitan tower. At times the singing was very clear, but frequently it was impossible to hear anything but a confused blur of sound.

SHOT AT AUTO AND PUNCTURED A TIRE Small Boy in Walworth County Took Pot Shot at Dr. Farnsworth's New Automobile.
While driving along a country road in Walworth county recently Dr. F.
H. Farnsworth's new automobile was made the target for an ambitious youngster armed with a twenty-two caliber. The boy had concealed himself behind a clump of bushes and as the auto passed took a pot shot, striking the rear tire of the machine and puncturing the inner tube so that it flattened out. Had the bullet hit the engine and glanced off it might have inflicted serious injury to some of the occupants of the car. The boy was caught and his father promised to punish him. The law is very strict on this matter and should Dr. Farnsworth care to be might make it very uncomfortable for both the boy and his parents.

Papers have been filed with the Circuit court and the secretary of state, in an action of the Beloit Hospital company against the subscribers of St.
Mary, the Rev. M. J. Ward and Archbishop Sebastian G. Mossion, to recover $1,000 which several doctors of the city, now associated with the Beloit hospital, and business men and citizens, subscribed for the purchase of the St. Mary's hospital property.
In the deed a provision was made that the building should be used perpetually for hospital purposes, and it is on this point that the plaintiffs base their claim for a return of the money subscribed. The individual subscribers have assigned their claims to the Beloit Hospital association. The transfer was made on March 20, 1903, the building remodeled and opened as a hospital the same year. The management was not satisfactory to the doctors interested in the project. Unable to make any satisfactory adjustment, they withdrew from the establishment. Another physician took charge, but gave it up and for the last three years the building has been used for residence purposes.

54-40 OR FIGHT

BY EMERSON HOUGH
AUTHOR OF THE MISSISSIPPI BUDDLE
ILLUSTRATIONS BY MAGNUS G. KETNER

"Madam, I am spy of no man, unless I am such at order of my chief, John Calhoun of the United States senate—perhaps, if madam pleases, soon of Mr. Tyler's cabinet."

In answer, she turned, hobbled to a tiny mahogany table, and tossed the note down upon it, unopened. I waited patiently, looking about me meantime. I discovered that the windows were barred with narrow slats of iron with, although covered with heavy draperies of amber silk. There was a double sheet of iron covering the door by which we had entered.

"Your cage, madam?" I inquired. "I do not blame England for making it so secret and strong! If so lovely a prisoner were mine, I should double the bars."

The swift answer to my presumption came in the flush of her cheek and her bitten lip. She caught up the key from the table, and half motioned me to the door. But now I smiled in turn, and pointed to the unopened note on the table. "You will pardon me, madam," I went on. "Surely it is no disgrace to represent either England or America. They are not at war. Why should we be?" We gazed steadily at each other.

The old servant had disappeared when at length her mistress chose to pick up my unregarded document. Deliberately she broke the seal and read. An instant later, her anger gone, she was laughing gaily.

"See," said she, bubbling over with her mirth; "I pick up a stranger, who should say goodbye at my curb; my apartments are forced; and this is what this stranger asks: that I shall go with him, tonight, alone, and otherwise unattended, to see a man, perhaps high in your government, but a stranger to me, at his own rooms—alone! Oh, la! la! Surely these Americans hold me high!"

"Assuredly, we do, madam," I answered. "Will it please you to go in your own carriage, or shall I return with one for you?"

She put her hands behind her back, holding in them the opened message from my chief. "I am tired, I am bored. Your impudence amuses me; and your errand is not your fault. Come, sit down. You have been good to me. Before you go, I shall have some refreshments brought for you." I felt a sudden call upon my resources as I found myself in this singular situation. Here, indeed, more easily reached than I had dared hope, was the woman in the case. But only half of my errand, the easier half, was done.

CHAPTER VI.

The Boudoir of the Baroness.

A woman's counsel brought us first to woe—Dryden.

"Wait," she said. "We shall have candles." She clapped her hands sharply, and again there entered the silent old serving woman, who, obedient to a gesture, proceeded to light additional candles in the prism stands and sconces. The apartment was now distinct in all its details under this additional flood of light. Decently as I might I looked about. I was forced to stifle the exclamation of surprise which rose to my lips.

Here certainly was European luxury transferred to our shores. This in simple Washington, with its vast white unfinished capital, its placeless miles of mixed residences, and hovels! I fancied stern Andrew Jackson or plain John Calhoun here!

The furniture I discovered to be exquisite in detail, of rosewood and mahogany, with many brass chakings and carvings, after the fashion of the empire, and here and there fluid ornamentation following that of the court of the earlier Louis. Pivotal little clocks with carved scrolls stood about, here and there a divan and couch showed elaborate care in comfort. Beyond a lace-screened grille I saw an alcove—doubtless cut through the original partition wall between two of these humble houses—and within this stood a high tester bed, its heavy mahogany posts beautifully carved, the couch itself piled deep with foundations of I know not what of down and spread most daintily with a coverlet of amber.

Acute Pains

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve acute pains of any nature. They are equally effective in neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, or the pain due to spinal trouble. Ladies who have periods of suffering find that they not only relieve their distress but their attacks become less severe, and after a time often disappear altogether.

In the Splendor of Satin and Lace and Gems.

As I have said, a feeling of resentment at the presumption which installed all this in our capital of Washington.

I presume my thought may have been reflected in some manner in my face. I heard a gentle laugh, and turned about. She sat there in a great carved chair, smiling, her white arms stretched out on the rails, the fingers just gently curling.

She had thrown back over the rail of the chair the rich cloak which covered her in the carriage, and sat now in the full light, in the splendor of satin and lace and gems, her arms bare, her throat and shoulders white and bare, her figure recognized graciously by every line of a superb gowning such as we had not yet learned on this side of the sea.

She did not speak at first, but sat and smiled, studying, I presume, to find what stuff I was made of.

"Be seated, pray," she said at last.

"Let us talk over this matter."

Obedient to her gesture, I dropped into a chair opposite to her, she herself not varying her posture and still regarding me with the laugh in her half-closed eyes.

"What do you think of my little place?" she asked finally.

"Two things, madam," said I, half sternly. "If it belonged to a man, and to a minister plenipotentiary, I should not approve it. If it belonged to a lady of means and a desire to see the hands of this little world, I should approve it very much."

She looked at me with eyes slightly narrowed, but no trace of perturbation crossed her face. "I saw it was no ordinary woman with whom we had to do."

"But," I went on, "in any case and at all events, I should say that the bird confined in such a cage, where secrecy is so imperative, would at times find weariness—would, in fact, wish to escape to other employment. You, madam?" I looked at her directly.

"Are a woman of so much intellect that you could not be content merely to live."

"No," she said, "I would not be content merely to live."

"Precisely. Therefore, since to make life worth the living there must be occasionally a trifle of spice, a bit of adventure, either for man or woman, I suggest to you, as something of a relief, this little journey with me to-night to meet my chief. You have his message. I am his messenger, and, believe me, quite at your service in any way you may suggest. Let us be frank. If you are agent, so am I. See; I have come into your camp. Dare you not come into ours? Come; it is an adventure to see a tall, thin old man in a dressing gown and a red woolen nightcap. So you will find much different from these."

She took up the message with its broken seal. "So your chief, as you call him, asks me to come to him, at midnight, with you, a stranger?"

"Precisely. Could you go to the office of a United States senator and possible cabinet minister in broad daylight and the fact not be known? Could he come to your apartments in broad daylight and that fact not be known? What would that man 'Calhoun' suspect in either case? Believe me, my master is wise. Great necessity sets aside conventions, sets aside everything. Come, then?"

But still she only sat and smiled at me.

I felt that purple and amber glow, the emanation of her personality, of her senses, creeping around me again as she leaned forward finally, her parted red-lipped lips disclosing her delicate white teeth. I saw the little heave of her bosom, whether in laughter or emotion I could not tell. I was young. Recounting the spell which I felt coming upon me, all I could do was to reiterate my demand for haste. She was not in the

His Disappointment:
"I was talking, on my trip with Luther Burbank, the plant which about the thornless cactus he had to the National museum in Washington," said a Washington Journalist.
"Mr. Burbank said that he changed the aspect of many plants not so much, perhaps, as he thought. People expected great changes than he could give. Achievements sometimes disappoint them—even as a lawyer of Los Angeles had been disappointed one."
"This lawyer said to a friend: 'Would you believe it? Told round on my sixty-ninth year.'"
"Impossible!" exclaimed the friend.
